REMIXING EXISTING FONT STYLES.

After reading an article about History font by Peter Bil'ak and what Matthew Carter did with Walker, I was highly motivated to draw some ideas I had for many years. I also found Tuscan fonts very inspirational and decadent. Jeffery Keedy did one on this topic called LushUS. I decided to extend history by means of mixing styles which historically have not coexisted. Taking one of my fonts, Azania a humanist slab serif from the 21st Century, I created a synthesis with a Tuscan style from the 19th Century and you get something unexpected. A very decadent display font. It also becomes an Azania family extension of 3 fonts; Bold, Extruded & Outline.
